CONTENTS

Dear Collectors

Welcome to the 2018 Impressions catalogue. The Philatelic Team once again offers you a range of limited edition items based on stamp themes released throughout the year. Regardless of what theme your collection follows, you'll find something exciting in this year's range.

There are 11 products available in the 2018 Registration of Interest offer. The offer goes live from 8:30am (AEDST) 5 November 2018 and is open for one week. This process continues to be the fairest way we can provide collectors with an opportunity to obtain one of these very limited products, and the online method of payment for successful buyers introduced last year is also the easiest way to purchase your items.

A feature in this year's range is a first for Australia Post. Using a two-step process, we present a true 3D version of a Silo Art minisheet. This was achieved using 3D print technology followed by an image printing process. Refer to page 26 for full details.

I hope you enjoy Impressions 2018!

Diwali is a five-day Hindu festival of lights, held annually in October or November. Its exact date is determined by the position of the Moon. It changes each year, and in 2016 it commences on 6 November. Diwali originates from the Sanskrit word deepavali - a row of lamps. For Hindus in India, South Asia and around the world, the festival celebrates the triumph of light over dark and good over evil. The festival also has significance for Sikhs, Buddhists and Jains. Origin stories vary among communities and regions, but in the north of India, Diwali marks the return of the god Rama from 14 years in exile.

Celebrations involve prayers and family feasts and include the lighting of traditional muds (oil) lamps to symbolise knowledge. The scene. Households are traditionally decorated with lights, candles and earthenware lamps known as diyas, which are lit to ward off evil. The festival is also a time of giving of wealth and presents, and the return of the god Rama from 14 years in exile.
