Hello Collectors

Welcome to the March–April edition of Stamp Bulletin. Notable among the latest Australian stamp issues and collectable products is a special sheetlet of five stamps, the sale of which supports disaster relief operations, including the recent bushfires.

A new design concept for the 2020 footy stamp packs incorporates the individual AFL and NRL club logos on the stamps. We've also produced two stamp pack collections (one for each code), each of which includes a logo stamp for the code's individual teams.

This edition of the Bulletin lists all products to be released for the Australia Post Australian Legends Award 2020. This award recipients will be named in the next edition, and background detail given. You can also keep up-to-date with this year's Legends via the Australia Post Collectables website.

A single gummed stamp marks the 150th anniversary of the first Sydney–San Francisco mail steamer service. The SS Wonga Wonga departed Sydney on 26 March 1870, transporting mail, passengers and cargo across the Pacific. The Australian Antarctic Territory issue also has a maritime theme, featuring HMAS Wyatt Earp, which voyaged to Antarctica in 1948.

The Anzac Day issue features four paintings by well-known Australian artists: two paintings representing Australian overseas service and the home front during World War I and two during World War II. The annual Queen's Birthday issue celebrates the 94th birthday of HM Queen Elizabeth II with two stamps, one featuring an image from her tour of Australia in 1970, and the other a photograph taken at Royal Ascot in 2019.

Our final stamp issue for April presents some of Australia's beautiful birds, six species recognised as official emblems of Australian states and territories.

On 26 March 1870, the SS Wonga Wonga departed Sydney for Honolulu via Auckland. It was the first steamer to depart from the Australian end of the new Sydney–San Francisco route. The following month, the SS City of Melbourne joined the Wonga Wonga on the Pacific route, the two steamers having been chartered by HH Hall from the Australasian Steam Navigation Co.

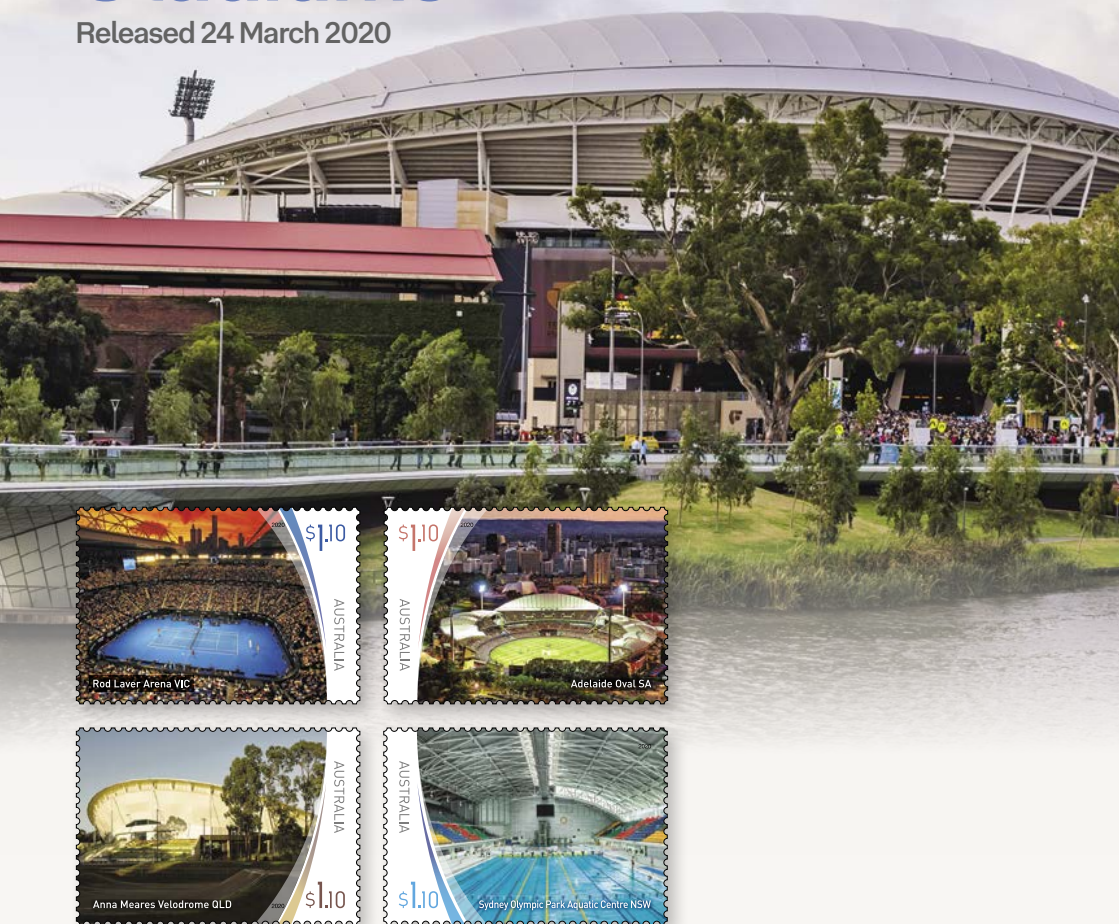

For the first year of Pacific service, these two steamers voyaged as far as Honolulu, where passengers, mail and other cargo would be transferred to the US-flagged steamers Idaho and Ajax, bound for San Francisco. The same arrangement occurred for the return journey to Sydney.

This stamp issue marks the 150th anniversary of the service, made possible once the American transcontinental railway had been completed, connecting the US east and west coasts.

This second stamp issue in the series presents sports stadiums used for tennis, cricket, cycling and swimming.

Completed in 1988, Melbourne's Rod Laver Arena is the centrepiece for the Australian Open, the first of the four annual international grand slam tournaments.

Adelaide Oval, on the Torrens River, has been integral to the city's landscape and culture since it was established in 1871. This prestigious stadium hosts international and domestic cricket and AFL football.

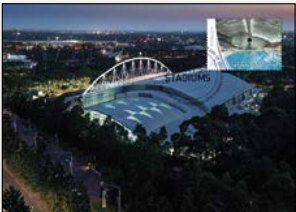

The Anna Meares Velodrome was purpose-built in 2016 for the 2018 Gold Coast Commonwealth Games. With its 250-metre UCI-standard track, the velodrome is part of Brisbane's Sleeman Sports Complex.

Opened in 1994 at Homebush, Sydney Olympic Park Aquatic Centre was a key part of Sydney's successful bid to host the 2000 Olympic Games. It has hosted legs of the swimming and diving world cups, as well as the Pan Pacific Swimming Championships in 1999.

Our territories stamp issue program has represented most of the key ships voyaging to Antarctica and associated with Australia, but not the HMAS Wyatt Earp. The primary aim of the expedition, which departed Melbourne in 1948, was to explore sites for a permanent research base in King George V Land, in the Australian Antarctic Territory, and to conduct scientific work.

Extreme weather and the ship's physical and technical limitations prevented it from reaching the Antarctic continent, but the expedition was not deemed a failure. The RAAF Vought-Sikorsky OS2U Kingfisher floatplane transported on the ship's deck undertook aerial surveying, and scientific observations and recordings were made during the voyage, securing the future of Australia's Antarctic research program.

The Queen's Birthday

Released 7 April 2020

The 1970 Royal Tour, unlike the previous tours in 1954 and 1963, was conducted with an informality that marked a shift in how the royal family presented itself, and how it was perceived by the public: no longer distant and reserved, the royals were seen as relaxed and approachable.

On 21 April 2020, Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II celebrates her 94th birthday. The year also marks the 50th anniversary of Her Majesty's third visit to Australia. The Queen was accompanied on the 1970 tour by their Royal Highnesses Prince Philip, Prince Charles (for part of the visit) and Princess Anne.

The five-week tour was popular with Australians, and coincided with the bicentenary events of Captain Cook's voyage up the east coast of Australia. The royal family was greeted by enthusiastic crowds as it travelled through New South Wales, Tasmania, Victoria, Queensland and Australian Capital Territory, before leaving for New Zealand in early May.

Determined to meet as many ordinary citizens as possible, the Queen would stop and engage with the countless individuals, both young and old, who welcomed her wherever she went.

William Dargie and Stella Bowen were employed as Australian official war artists during World War II. Grace Cossington Smith and Hilda Rix Nicholas painted subjects that had particular personal significance. All works are oil on canvas.

Minisheet

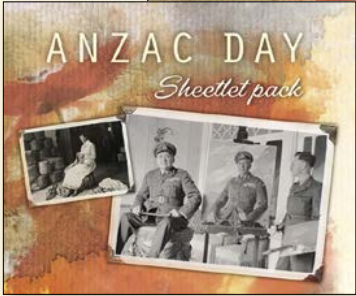

This Anzac Day issue features works of art inspired by the events of the two World Wars on the home front and in combat overseas.

Young Sydney artist Grace Cossington Smith (1892–1984) painted the now-celebrated modernist work The sock knitter in 1915 during World War I.

A man by Hilda Rix Nicholas (1884–1961), painted in Sydney shortly after the Great War, depicts an unnamed heroic Australia soldier.

Dargie's (1912–2003) Group of VADs, painted in 1942, is a portrait of four civilian nurses in the Voluntary Aid Detachment at 115 Australian General Hospital (later the Repatriation Hospital) in Heidelberg, Melbourne.

Stella Bowen's (1893–1947) Bomber crew is a moving tribute to six Australians and one Englishman comprising a Lancaster bomber crew of No. 460 Squadron Royal Australian Air Force. On 28 April 1944, the airmen were reported missing over Germany; only one survived.

The stamps in this issue present six species of bird that have been officially proclaimed as emblems of an Australian state or territory. Featured in the designs are artworks from ornithologist John Gould's seven-volume The Birds of Australia, published in 1848.

Presented are Australia's largest kingfisher, the Laughing Kookaburra (Dacelo novaeguineae) (New South Wales); the endangered Helmeted

Honeyeater (Lichenostomus melanops cassidix) (Victoria); the iconic Black Swan (Cygnus atratus) (Western Australia); Australia's largest bird of prey, the Wedge-tailed Eagle (Aquila audax) (Northern Territory); the only species of crane native to Australia, the Brolga (Grus rubicunda) (Queensland); and the outgoing Gang-gang Cockatoo (Callocephalon fimbriatum), proclaimed as the faunal emblem of the Australian Capital Territory (ACT) in 1997.

Important notice

On occasion currency has been sent to the Australian Philatelic Bureau in the mail to cover the cost of an order. Whilst this practice is rare, we would like to remind all our customers that this method of payment cannot be accepted.

Australia Post also wishes to advise that, in keeping with guidelines for mail processing as set by the Australian Postal Corporation Act 1989, we are unable to return any currency by mail.

Planned withdrawal dates may be changed without notice to meet emergent postal requirements. Advice of such changes will be published retrospectively in the first available Stamp Bulletin Australia. Contact the Australian Philatelic Bureau (FREECALL 1800 331 794 within Australia, +61 3 9887 0033 overseas) or visit auspost.com.au/stamps for the current price at the time you place your order. Hours of operation are 8:30am to 5pm AEDT. The price of stamps and related products, souvenir items and numismatics are correct at the time of printing but are subject to change. The price of numismatic products is subject to valuation changes. Contact the Australian Philatelic Bureau, or your participating Post Offices to check the current price at the time of placing your order.
