Hello Collectors

Welcome to the July edition of the Stamp Bulletin for 2023, bringing you a range of new stamp releases and collectables.

This edition presents three international stamp designs, featuring threatened marsupial species. This issue covers the increase to international letter rates, which takes effect from 3 July 2023 and covers postage rates for Asia Pacific (Zone 2), UK and Europe (Zone 4) and Rest of World (Zone 5).

The FIFA Women's World Cup Australia and New Zealand 2023™ is the first Women's World Cup to be held in the Southern Hemisphere and the first to be hosted by two countries. To celebrate, we will issue a single stamp featuring the official event mascot.

In July, we release two stamp designs that span scenic views from two Norfolk Island lookouts: the rugged cliffs and offshore formations from Captain Cook Lookout, on the north coast, and the sweeping ocean views from Queen Elizabeth Lookout, officially opened by Queen Elizabeth II in 1974.

Aussie Bird Count is an annual citizen science conservation project that invites every Australian to record numbers of bird species in their back yard, resulting in important data about bird diversity and population numbers. Three stamp designs are being released, showcasing species that feature prominently in recent counts, including the Rainbow Lorikeet, Noisy Miner and Australian Magpie.

This year marks 250 years since the first circumnavigation of Antarctica and the first crossing of the Antarctic Circle by Captain James Cook. On 17 January 1773, Cook made the first recorded crossing of the Antarctic Circle, dispelling the myth that great unknown southern landmass lay beyond.

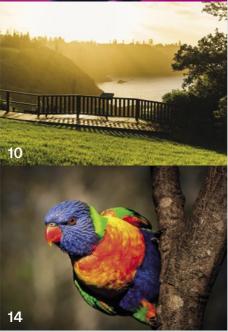

We also profile some exciting upcoming collectables. including six that celebrate a century of Disney characters. And don't forget about the range of exciting AFL $1 Collectable Coins, available while stocks last.

This issue of International Post stamps features three threatened marsupial species. The agile Yellow-footed Rock-wallaby (Petrogale xanthopus) can be found in scattered populations among rocky outcrops and gorges in semi-arid country in eastern South Australia, western New South Wales and isolated pockets in Queensland. The Bilby (Macrotis lagotis) is a desert-dwelling marsupial around the size of a rabbit. It was once widely distributed through arid and semi-arid Australia, but wild populations are now restricted to spinifex grassland in Western Australia and the Northern Territory, and to a small region of southwestern Queensland. The Koala (Phascolarctos cinereus) is found in eastern Australia from the temperate south to the tropical north. Inactive for about 20 hours a day, koalas spend most of their lives in Eucalypt trees, the leaves of which provide the animals with virtually their sole source of food.

The FIFA Women's World Cup Australia and New Zealand 2023™ is the first to be held in the Southern Hemisphere and the first to be hosted by two countries. From 20 July to 20 August a record thirty-two nations will compete for the coveted trophy at venues across Australia and Aotearoa New Zealand. Featured on the stamp and special pin, the Official Mascot of the FIFA Women's World Cup™ is Tazuni™, an energetic, footballloving penguin based on the species endemic to the region, Eudyptula minor or Little Penguin. Capturing the spirit of an event that will go Beyond Greatness™, Tazuni's name is a combination of her home in the Tasman Sea and "unity", a key value of the event.

The colourful branding elements of the stamp and cover are based on works by Australian and Aotearoa New Zealand artists.

The mountainous terrain and spectacular coastline of Norfolk Island provide many opportunities for scenic views from the island's several lookouts. Captain Cook Lookout on the north coast affords vistas of rugged cliffs and offshore formations such as Green Pool Stone, Cathedral Rock, Bird Rock and Elephant Rock. A stone obelisk marks the spot where Captain James Cook landed in 1774 during his second voyage aboard HMS Resolution. He described Norfolk Island as "paradise". To the south, sweeping views from Queen Elizabeth Lookout include Georgian buildings of Kingston's Quality Row, the Norfolk Island golf course, Nepean Island and Phillip Island. This lookout is named after Queen Elizabeth II, who officially opened it in 1974.

BirdLife Australia has been at the heart of bird conservation for more than a century. Its aims are to drive relevant science, raise awareness of Australia's precious avifauna, and devise and implement programs to protect birds and restore their habitats.

Aussie Bird Count is an annual citizen science project. The growing army of bird devotees collects crucial data on species diversity and populations to monitor distribution trends and to ascertain which species are thriving and which are not.

In 2022, nearly four million birds were counted. The three most numerous species nationally were the Rainbow Lorikeet, Noisy Miner and Australian Magpie, shown in the stamps; the birds in the stamp backgrounds and minisheet state and territory counts.

To participate in this year's Aussie Bird Count, held during 16–22 October, details can be found at aussiebirdcount.org.au.

It is 250 years since the first circumnavigation of Antarctica and the first crossing of the Antarctic Circle. The chief objective of James Cook's voyage (1772–75) was to settle the long-held belief of a great unknown southern landmass existing in the temperate waters of the globe's south. Through the circumnavigation and sweeps of the South Pacific during the polar winter, he dispelled the myth.

The voyage through Antarctic waters was one of great challenge and endurance, sailing deep into treacherous, icy waters. On 17 January 1773, Cook made the first recorded crossing of the Antarctic Circle. HMS Resolution crossed the circle two more times during the voyage, reaching its most southerly point in 1774, some 80 miles short of the Antarctic mainland.

Important notice

On occasion currency has been sent to the Australian Philatelic Bureau in the mail to cover the cost of an order. Whilst this practice is rare, we would like to remind all our customers that this method of payment cannot be accepted.

Australia Post advises that this is in keeping with guidelines for mail processing as set by the Australian Postal Corporation Act 1989.

Planned withdrawal dates may be changed without notice to meet emergent postal requirements. Advice of such changes will be published retrospectively in the first available Stamp Bulletin Australia. Contact the Australian Philatelic Bureau (FREECALL 1800 33 1794 within Australia, +61 3 9887 0033 overseas) or visit auspost.com.au/stamps for the current price at the time you place your order. Hours of operation are 8:30am to 5pm AEDT. The price of stamps and related products, souvenir items and numismatics are correct at the time of printing but are subject to change. The price of numismatic products is subject to valuation changes. Contact the Australian Philatelic Bureau, or your participating Post Offices to check the current price at the time of placing your order.

IMPORTANT: APPLIES TO ALL LOCAL AND OVERSEAS ORDERS WHEN PAYING BY CHEQUE

Advice to Mail Order customers that as of the 30 April 2023 Australia Post's Philatelic Mail Order Section will no longer accept personal or bank cheques for payment of philatelic items. Cheques and Bank Drafts received after this date will be returned. Collectors are asked to use the Order Form accompanying this Stamp Bulletin to update your Account payment details.
