Seven Seas

Opals – International

A spotlight on Australia's national gemstone.

Opals are unique for their remarkable play of colour, produced by the diffraction and interference of light by the microscopic spheres of silica that form the structure of the opal. Australia's opals started forming tens of millions of years ago, when much of central Australia was a shallow inland sea and fine sands rich in silica were deposited along the shorelines. As the sea receded, deserts were slowly created. Through millions of years of weathering, a silica-rich solution seeped along faults in the earth, filling in cracks and voids. This gel eventually hardened to form opal.

Cherished Celebrations

A unique way to mark life's special milestones.

Some of life's biggest events deserve more than just a quick text of congratulations or condolence; they call for a heartfelt, handwritten letter or card sent in the mail. Make the note even more special with a themed stamp. From engagements and weddings to birthdays and graduations, there's a stamp in this issue to mark our most important special occasions. Or opt for the more general floral designs for a get well or bereavement message.

Ferdinand von Mueller 1825-1896

A look at one of our greatest botanists.

Ferdinand von Mueller arrived in the colonies in 1847, first settling in Adelaide before moving to Melbourne in 1851. He travelled throughout the continent collecting specimens, identifying many botanical species new to Western science. In total, Mueller named more than 2,000 plant species and published more than 800 scientific articles and books. He was named a Baron in 1871 and received a British knighthood in 1879.

Margaret Preston 1875-1963

Celebrating a pioneer of modern art in Australia.

One of Australia's most important painter-printmakers, Margaret Preston was born in Port Adelaide on 29 April 1875, and studied in Sydney, Melbourne, Adelaide, Munich and Paris. Celebrated for her bold, geometric designs, she depicted still-lives, birds and animals, people and cityscapes, but is best known for her paintings and prints of local landscapes and flora.

Australian Antarctic Territory Antarctic Krill

A tiny but important part of the underwater ecosystem.

Antarctic krill (Euphausia superba) is the dominant species of krill found in Antarctic waters. Measuring 6cm long, an adult Antarctic krill resembles a small, mainly transparent, reddish prawn. At risk due to climate change and acidification of the ocean, if the krill population collapses, the entire Antarctic ecosystem will be affected as they're an essential food source for most of the larger animals, including those depicted on the stamps: the humpback whale, crabeater seal, chinstrap penguin and seabirds.

HOW TO SET UP YOUR STANDING ORDER

There are many benefits of setting up a standing order, primarily to ensure you never miss out on adding new, and often rare, qualifying products* to your collection. You can decide exactly what you want to receive, with no minimum issue restrictions on your purchase. No queues, no fuss – just products delivered to your door as soon as they are available.

Purchasing Blank First Day Covers and licensed products

Collectors are advised that Blank Covers associated with new stamp issues are not listed for sale online and are only available by mail order and in-store.

Licensed stamp packs and collectable products are only available for sale to local customers under the terms and conditions of the license to produce.

Important notice

On occasion, currency has been sent to the Australian Philatelic Bureau in the mail to cover the cost of an order. While this practice is rare, we would like to remind all our customers that this method of payment cannot be accepted.

Australia Post advises that this is in keeping with guidelines for mail processing as set by the Australian Postal Corporation Act 1989.

Planned withdrawal dates may be changed without notice to meet emergent postal requirements. Advice of such changes will be published retrospectively in the first available Stamp Bulletin Australia. Contact the Australian Philatelic Bureau (FREECALL 1800 331 794 within Australia, +61 3 8340 7240 overseas) or visit auspost.com.au/stamps for the current price at the time you place your order. Hours of operation are 8.30am to 5pm AEST. The price of stamps and related products, souvenir items and numismatics are correct at the time of printing but are subject to change. The price of numismatic products is subject to valuation changes. Contact the Australian Philatelic Bureau or your participating Post Office to check the current price at the time of placing your order.

First Day Cover with Stamps price update – effective 1 July 2025

To align with the Blank Cover price of $1 RRP, an additional $1 will be added to the pricing of First Day Cover (Gummed), Minisheet and Self-Adhesive Covers. This price adjustment will take effect for all First Day Covers released from July 2025 onwards.
