Ford: 100 Years in Australia

The beloved “blue oval” rings in a century Down Under.

The Ford Motor Company was founded by Henry Ford in 1903 in Detroit, Michigan. The following year it set up a factory in Ontario, Canada, to make and sell vehicles across the British Empire. The first Ford cars to reach Australia came in kit form in 1909 and were assembled here. In 1925, Ford Australia was founded as a subsidiary of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, with headquarters in Geelong, Victoria. On 1 July, the first Australian-built Ford was completed: a Model T. Various models were produced over the years, before manufacturing in Australia ended in 2016.

The Art of Kevin Bynder

Showcasing the work of the respected Indigenous artist.

Western Australian painter and designer Kevin Bynder was born in 1975 in Boorloo/Perth to a Whadjuk-Yued Nyungar mother and a Widi-Badimia Yamatji father. Bynder began painting at the age of 23, first in Fitzroy Crossing and then in Broome, where he had his first studio. Since then, he's established a successful international career from his merchandise company and art studio at Wangara, a suburb in Perth's north.

Astronomical Observatories

Exploring space from a land Down Under.

With generally low levels of light pollution, the Australian continent is ideally situated for astronomical observation of the southern skies. Numerous ground-based observatories housing optical, radio and other telescopes are located throughout the country. These instruments provide crucial information for space exploration. This issue includes three ground-based astronomical observatories and their historic or current optical telescopes.

Journey to Wellbeing

A series to raise awareness about mental health and wellbeing.

Australia Post is proud to partner with Beyond Blue to support mental health and wellbeing in our communities and connect people to mental health information and support. This issue features artwork by Beyond Blue's lived-experience community members depicting how they look after their own mental health – from connecting with nature to being present and mindful. # Tasmania's Convict Bridges

An insight into the history of the Apple Isle.

From 1804 to 1853, around 76,000 convicts were forcibly transported to Van Diemen's Land, as Tasmania was then called. This represented 47 per cent of all felons sent to the Australian colonies. Male convicts were sent to work under harsh, punishing conditions, quarrying and hauling stone to construct roads, buildings and bridges. This issue features three convict-built Tasmanian bridges from this period.

Important notice

On occasion, currency has been sent to the Australian Philatelic Bureau in the mail to cover the cost of an order. While this practice is rare, we would like to remind all our customers that this method of payment cannot be accepted.

Australia Post advises that this is in keeping with guidelines for mail processing as set by the Australian Postal Corporation Act 1989.

Planned withdrawal dates may be changed without notice to meet emergent postal requirements. Advice of such changes will be published retrospectively in the first available Stamp Bulletin Australia. Contact the Australian Philatelic Bureau (FREECALL 1800 331 794 within Australia, +61 3 8340 7240 overseas) or visit auspost.com.au/stamps for the current price at the time you place your order. Hours of operation are 8.30am to 5pm AEST. The price of stamps and related products, souvenir items and numismatics are correct at the time of printing but are subject to change. The price of numismatic products is subject to valuation changes. Contact the Australian Philatelic Bureau or your participating Post Office to check the current price at the time of placing your order.

Maxicard Price Update – Effective 1 September 2025

Due to increased production costs, the price of each Maxicard will be adjusted to align with the full postcard rate of $3.10. This updated rate will apply to both domestic and international Maxicards and will be effective for all releases from 1 September 2025 onwards.
